Earsby Street, W14

An impressive five-bedroom apartment spanning over 1,500 sq ft, set within Palace Mansions, a striking red-brick period building in the heart of West Kensington.

Positioned on the top floor with lift access, the apartment offers an exceptional sense of space throughout, combining the character and generous proportions of a traditional mansion flat with the practicality required for modern living.

The property comprises a spacious reception room featuring high ceilings, decorative corning and a feature fireplace, alongside a generous eat-in kitchen with integrated appliances and excellent storage. Large sash windows throughout allow for an abundance of natural light.

There are five well-proportioned bedrooms, providing flexible accommodation for a family or professional sharers, together with two modern bathrooms. Period features, including wood flooring and original detailing, add further character to the apartment.

Residents of Palace Mansions benefit from lift access, porter service and well-maintained communal areas, all within an attractive and established period development. Ideally located for the amenities and transport connections of West Kensington and Barons Court, the property is within easy reach of both Underground stations, providing access to the District and Piccadilly lines. Kensington High Street, Olympia and Holland Park are also conveniently nearby, alongside a wide selection of shops, cafés and everyday amenities.

A rare opportunity to secure a substantial five-bedroom home with excellent proportions and period character in a well-connected West London location.
